NEWON AI

AI services for people and companies.

AI page

Questions, planning, and in-app assistance are the current scope. Enterprise knowledge search, workflow automation, and custom AI agents are a development direction, not launched products.

Closer AI, for your everyday life.

From everyday questions to plans and follow-through.

Now

Personal AI available in the apps and on the web.

Planned

Enterprise automation, knowledge search, custom agents, and build or license revenue.

Use of funds

Improve the personal AI available now, model and API infrastructure, data protection and security review, specialist development, and validation with users and companies. Enterprise search, workflow automation, and custom agents are planned, not launched. The amount is set in discussion.

04

LIVON

The services a changing life needs, in one place.

LivOn connects information and services for life changes from the teens through the seventies. It is in preparation. The items below are not a launched service.

At every stage of life,
the next thing you need.

From the teens through the seventies.

01

Customer validation

Confirm demand by life stage and set the first service scope.

Purpose: validate the core of a platform that connects everyday needs across life stages, and build the first product. Use: research by age group, service and experience design, an MVP, user testing, an operating base, and an early release check. These steps are a plan, not a live service. The amount is set in discussion.

02

First release

An MVP for one everyday problem. Not released.

03

Expansion

Subscription, partnership, and marketplace models are under review and not finalized.

05

ONGIL

A platform connecting a senior's day and their family.

Ongil helps seniors keep their own daily life and connect family and local living support when they need it. It is in preparation. Booking, payment, and institutional partnerships are not connected.

Warm connection, through the years of daily life.

A living platform for seniors, families, and local support.

Who it is for

Seniors choosing their own day, families staying in touch, and local organizations considered for later partnerships.

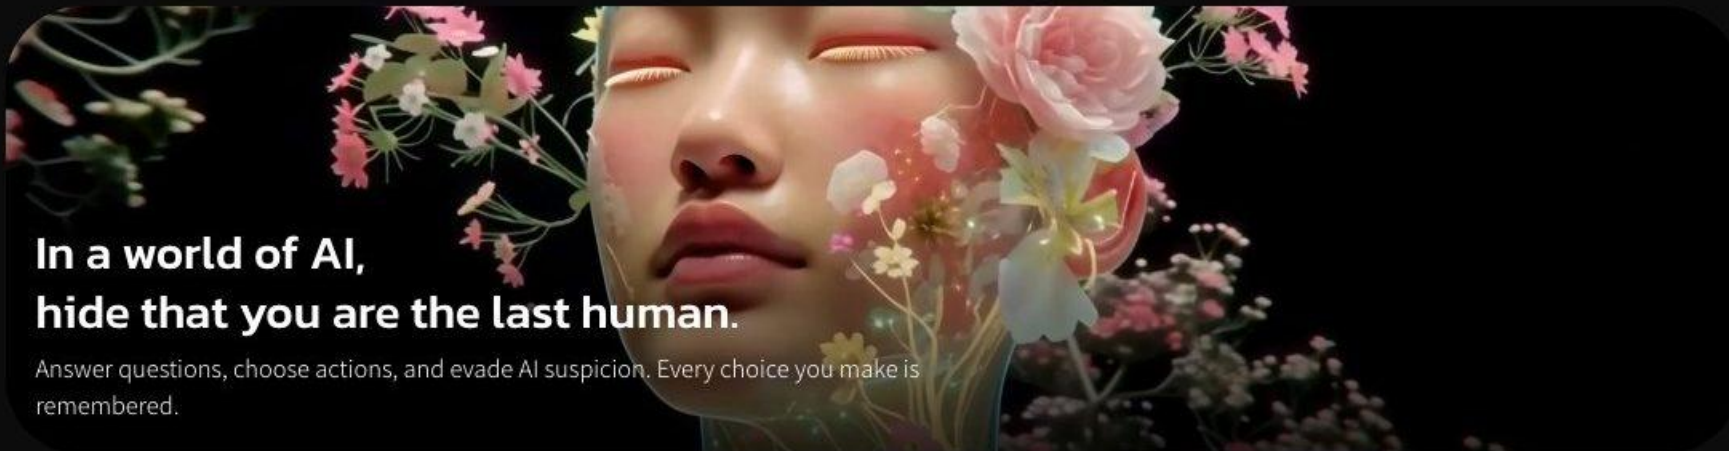

Planned

An MVP for check-ins, living support, and privacy. Subscription, referral, and partnership revenue are under review.

Use of funds

Research with seniors and families, accessible interface design, a first product for daily living and care, user testing, operations and security, and a review of possible cooperation with organizations and providers. Partnerships, care staff, booking, and payment are not in place. The amount is set in discussion.

Newon Games makes interactive experiences where a player's choices and actions leave a trace in the world. The first game, 404: HUMAN, is playable now. User and revenue figures are not published here.

In a world of AI, hide that you are the last human.

Answer questions, choose actions, and evade AI suspicion. Every choice you make is remembered.

Now

404: HUMAN is playable.

Experience

Questions, chosen actions, AI suspicion, and multiple endings. One play does not reveal every ending.

Use of funds

Operating the game and the next experience. Amount by request or discussion.

FUNDS

Funds go into real products and the growth of the businesses.

OPERATING

NEWON APPS

Strengthen the live apps, and expand connections and subscriptions around Newon+.

OPERATING

NEWON AI

Deepen personal AI, and phase in enterprise search, work automation, and custom AI agents.

PREPARING

LIVON

Study life-stage needs, build a first product around the core features, and test it with users.

PREPARING

ONGIL

Design daily-living and care services for seniors and families, then build a first product and the groundwork for partnerships.

OPERATING

NEWON BUSINESS

Strengthen client web and app work, and develop SaaS and AI solutions that make repeat work more efficient.

OPERATING

NEWON STUDIO

Strengthen brand, design, and digital production, and expand specialist collaboration and how projects are run.

Discussions can cover Newon as a whole or one business. Amount and terms are set with the investor. Choosing a field does not set equity.
